

Lighting

Project proposal for lighting entails a blue hue.

Considering light conditions inside the church are challenging to control, the goal is to achieve a blue hue. In the Sint Joris Kapel, a blue reflection in the organ and a detail of blue light in the chapel's chandelier. Technical possibilities resorting to hidden projectors inside the organ's balcony ( as example ) are under consultation. A preliminary technical budget is included in the annex.

The Chandelier in the Sint Joris Kapek could have a small intervention by using commercially available solution such as blue light bulbs or acrylic or foil tubes around the light sources ( images bellow ). In the event that the electric system in place is not compatible with these solutions, a external system could be explored with cabled leading to the chandelier and lighting individual light fixtures attached to the chandelier example 3 (images 04.05)
